Session II An Introduction to Artificial Intelligence

– How AI works and how it is being applied today

Join us on 28th March and find out Google's insights on AI! Leonie Valentine from Google Hong Kong will give an introduction to AI and illustrate how it is being applied and affecting our daily work and life today.

This is the second session of our Women's Technology and Business Program which is organised by AustCham's Women in Business Network. The Program aims to help close the gender technology gap and empower women to create innovative solutions and to increase knowledge of our members on the threats and opportunities posed by some disruptive technologies and to upskill them in particular technology areas.

About our speaker:

Leonie Valentine, Managing Director, Sales & Operations, Google Hong Kong

Leonie has over 20 years of experience in marketing and sales, and has served as Director of Customer Experience for Asia Pacific at Google for the past two years. Prior to joining Google, Leonie was Executive Vice President, Customer Service & Operations at CSL Limited. Earlier, she held the position of Chief of Staff for Telstra International Group, and was a member of the Executive Leadership Team charged with managing Telstra Corp’s business growth and assets outside of Australia and New Zealand.

Leonie holds an Executive Certificate in Business Administration from the Australian Graduate School of Entrepreneurship of Swinburne University, a Master’s Degree in Communication Management from the University of Technology, Sydney, and a Bachelor of Science from Melbourne University.
